EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

1. An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

Authorization for this examiner's amendment was given in a telephone interview with Kevin Radigan on Friday, October 28, 2005.

The application has been amended as follows:

Claim 49,

Line 23, "n <= x.", has been replaced with, --n <= x, and wherein said n possible PID values equals 32 possible PID values.--

Allowable Subject Matter

1. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: the prior art does not teach or fairly suggest a method for re-mapping PID values provided in transport packets associated with multiple transport streams to be multiplexed onto a single shared transport channel, comprising: providing at least one PID re-map table having re-map values indexed by n possible PID values of transport packets associated with at least one transport stream of the multiple transport streams, wherein n is less than all possible PID values of the transport packets within the multiple transport streams; comparing PID values of transport packets associated with the transport stream with n possible PID values of the PID re-map table, and when the match is found, indexing the PID re-map table using the matching PID value, generating therefrom a re-map value, and replacing the matching PID value by the re-map value, wherein when a non-matching PID value is found, performing at least one of: the associated transport packet is to be discarded; or performing clock recovery on the transport stream and discarding the transport packet associated with the non-matching PID value; and wherein the single shared transport channel couples to a transport demultiplexor, which can handle x PID values, and $n \leq x$, and the n possible PID values equals 32 possible PID values, as recited in independent claims 1, 15, 26, 49, 53 and 67.

2. Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
